

Healthcare Professional Payment Transparency ^[1]

As part of our mission to pioneer new ways to improve and extend people's lives, Sandoz Canada regularly collaborates with healthcare professionals (HCPs) and healthcare organizations (HCOs) to foster scientific exchange, advance scientific knowledge, education and quality of care for patients. We are proud of the relationships we have with Canadian HCPs, HCOs and other healthcare stakeholders and have made the decision to disclose, in aggregate form, payments made to healthcare professionals and healthcare organizations. We believe that openly communicating payments and transfers of value to healthcare stakeholders can help foster stronger understanding of our industry's collaborations and trust with patients, HCPs, government officials and the public. It also supports our commitment to high ethical business standards. Click here ^[2] to learn more.
