

Voluntary Disclosure of Payments to Healthcare Professionals and Healthcare Organizations January-December 2018

Context: At Sandoz, our goal is to become Canada's most respected and successful healthcare company and be a leader in the way we conduct business. To this end, we have established standards for business conduct in order to ensure that our commercial practices are beyond reproach. We strongly feel that this approach is the right thing to do in today's business environment.

As a partner in Canada's health care system, Sandoz Canada regularly collaborates with healthcare professionals (HCPs) and healthcare organizations (HCOs) to foster scientific exchange, for the ultimate benefit of patients. Our decision to publish payments to HCPs and HCOs is voluntary and part of our overall commitment to transparency and high ethical standards in our business practices.

All payment information has been captured in aggregate form (one sum total) and presented on the next page in three categories.
